

A NEW WARDEN FOR THE TOMBS.

He is John E. Van de Carr, a Republican and a Cornell Graduate.

Recently Resigned a Brewery Agency, and Never Had a Political Office Before.

FOUNDER OF A HARLEM PARTY CLUB.

Deputy O'Shea Says He is Willing to Receive the New Man, and Hopes That He Will Observe the Rules Better Than Fallon.

Commissioner of Correction Wright yesterday afternoon appointed John E. Van de Carr Warden of the Tombs Prison.

Warden Van de Carr of the Tombs.

He was appointed yesterday to succeed Warden Fallon, removed, is a Republican, lives in Harlem and never held political office before.

Commissioner removed Warden John J. Fallon a few days ago on charges. The new warden is a Republican, and Commissioner Wright said yesterday afternoon that politics had nothing to do with the appointment. Mr. Van de Carr's name appears on the political slate of New York for the first time, according to the biography given out at the office of the Commissioner of Correction. Mr. Van de Carr is forty-five years old, and lives, with his two daughters and a son, at No. 69 West One Hundred and Twenty-first street.

He is a member of the Harlem Republican Club, and was the first to suggest its organization. Mr. Van de Carr's ancestors were among the early settlers of New York. His grandfather was captain of a company in the Continental Army. The new Warden was born on a farm in the town of Schoharie, New York, on March 3, 1850. At the age of sixteen he entered Cornell University, and graduated from there in 1872. He came to this city after graduating, and has followed the career of a general agent for the Bartholomew Brewing Company, of Rochester. He has made his home in Harlem since 1874.

At the Tombs, Deputy Warden O'Shea remarked: "I am willing to receive the new Warden. All I shall do is to look after the rules. Fallon did not observe the rules, and he's gone. The new man—I don't know him." The new Warden will take charge on February 1. His salary will be $2,500 a year.

RAN INTO A LANDSLIDE.

Special Excursion Train from New York to Mexico and California Wrecked in Virginia.

Hagerstown, Md., Jan. 25.—The special Raymond & Whitcomb excursion train, which left New York by the Central Railroad of New Jersey at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, for Mexico and California, was wrecked on the Norfolk and Western Railroad three miles east of Riverton, Va., shortly before midnight last night. One man was killed and several were seriously injured and three Pullman cars totally destroyed. The train was in charge of a Hagerstown crew, who were taking it from Shenandoah Junction to Roanoke, Captain Frank E. Corbin, conductor; H. C. Long, engineer, and William Clapper, fireman, all of Hagerstown.

The section was composed of three Pullman palace cars, one baggage car and a smoker, and was running at a high rate of speed when it crashed into a landslide of rock and dirt. The engine struck the cut and had left that part where the accident occurred only about fifteen minutes before. When the engine struck the mass it left the rails. The baggage car also left the track, but went in an opposite direction. The three Pullman cars were crushed and the passengers were rescued. The engine and were turned over and piled up in a heap.

The colored porter from New York was scalded to death and his body was burned to a crisp before it could be recovered from the wreckage. The cars took fire immediately and the passengers were rescued. Many of them in their night clothing, by the train hands. All escaped with slight cuts and bruises, except one woman from Texas, whose arm was broken and her body badly bruised. Eugene Long was seriously cut about the head and face when he was thrown from the car. He was brought to his home in this city to-night and it is thought he will recover. Fireman Clapper's injuries are mostly bruises and are not thought to be serious. Conductor Corbin escaped without a scratch. Wrecking crews from Roanoke, Lynch and Hagerstown were at work all day cleaning up the debris and it was not until late this afternoon that the tracks were cleared. Nothing remains of the Pullman cars but the iron framework.

Heard from Her Daughter at Last.

Mrs. Martha Albert, of No. 46 North Jefferson street, Newark, twelve years ago came to this country and settled in her home in Orange, N. J., where she had her German-born daughter, who had been in Germany her eight-year-old daughter. Letters were exchanged regularly for some time, but after a while they ceased. Mrs. Albert yesterday received a letter from her daughter, which informed her that the latter was married, and that she is now Mrs. Henry Herbert, of Manassas, Ill. The young woman came to America four years ago, and since that time has been trying to locate her mother.

Jumped in the River to Death.

Ellen Washington, a colored woman, thirty years old, living at the corner of Fourth street and Willow avenue, Hoboken, attempted suicide yesterday by jumping into the East River from Pier No. 37. Daniel Wilson, colored, pulled her out. She was taken to the Hudson Street Hospital, a prisoner.

TAILORS' STRIKE SETTLED.

Garment Makers Go Back To-day, Having Won a Complete Victory Over the Manufacturers.

The lockout of the East Side tailors, which began seven weeks ago and involved 3,000 garment workers in this city and vicinity, was settled yesterday just in time to avert a general strike of the 20,000 members of organizations heretofore controlled by the United Garment Workers. The entire tailoring trade would have been tied up. It had been decided to order out the men yesterday if the morning conference between the representatives of the Coat Contractors' Association and the garment workers proved unfruitful.

As it was, a new agreement was reached at the last moment, by which an alliance was formed between the Contractors' Association and the United Garment Workers. By the terms of this alliance the original agreement between the two bodies was to be observed, and the joint Board of Arbitration is to be recognized and all disputes settled by them.

The Contractors' Association insisted on retaining the trouble between them and their employees a strike, though the garment workers called it a lockout. The contractors seven weeks ago refused to employ any men who would not work under their new rules, which were at variance with the agreement for a year which they had signed with the Brotherhood of Tailors.

He was before the Special Aldermanic Committee—Messrs. Brown, Goodman and Olcott—appointed to give a public hearing on the proposition to place the memorial in Commissioner Haffen's district. The Commissioner is willing and anxious to have it there, but there are many persons who do not want it in any part of the city under any conditions.

The Board announced at the opening of the hearing that the opposition would be heard first. Paul Dana said, in view of the fact that the application was made by the Heine persons, it was only fair to hear what they had to offer before making any objections.

Mr. Olcott said the resolution before Mayor Strong was recalled so as to give certain persons an opportunity to offer their objections, and consequently it was incumbent upon them to show reasons for the opposition.

Mr. Dana then said he would briefly state how the matter came before the Park Board and was submitted to the National Sculpture Society, a body of high artistic standing. He had the report of that body and would be content to present it to the committee.

Russell Sturgis, vice-president of the society, declared that he had had nothing against the acceptance of the monument. It was referred to the society, as all other matters of art are referred, for an opinion.

The society, said he, "is a permanent body, whose function it is to make upon works of art. Under these circumstances it has been difficult to conceive how a misleading opinion could be given."

Mr. Ruckstuhl said the society is composed of forty-four members, thirteen of whom are foreigners and thirteen of whom are Germans. It had been accused of prejudice in deciding against this work of art.

OFFICE BUILDING FOR DOCTORS.

Metropolitan Life Proposes to Fit Up Its Madison Square Structure.

Plans are being made for a "House of Doctors," an office building in where none but members of the medical and surgical fraternities shall have footing. They will be provided with every convenience. Doctors, and especially surgeons, have long been hampered by the difficulty of finding suitable rooms for offices in private or apartment houses. When such rooms are found in addition doctors have had to contend with a lack of facilities, so that in many cases they are forced to make use of hospitals, when, with proper arrangements in their offices, this would not be necessary.

Now the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is preparing to take care of them by turning its big building at Twenty-third street and Madison avenue into a series of doctors' offices. The company has decided to move into the big annex on Twenty-fourth street, and it was decided to try the experiment with doctors. As soon as the present building is vacated, carpenters will be set at work, and each of the floors will be fitted up for the use of physicians. Plans will be arranged with a physician whose practice is not sufficient to warrant his taking an entire suite can rent one of these consultation rooms and for a small fee can have the use of the reception room for his patients. If he does not want the consultation room for the entire day, he can divide with a fellow practitioner, or with two or three, if he likes, each occupying it at different hours. In this way it will be possible for a physician to procure splendidly equipped quarters for a moderate price.

Each of the consultation rooms will be fitted with electric lights and arrangements for electric batteries, as well as provisions for the performance of ordinary operations and the sanitary conveniences of all implements used. Special elevators will be put in, by which invalids in chairs or upon stretchers can be carried to the office of any physician. Each floor will be provided with a telephone, of which the office of the various suites will have free use.

The plan is a modification of the one already watched over by Dr. M. J. M. He has not given up the execution of his idea, but has decided to postpone further until the eleven-story building is completed. Dr. M. J. M. has been preparing to build a new building, and was preparing to build a new building, and was preparing to build a new building.

GOED BY AN ANGRY BULL.

Mrs. Reamer May Not Recover from Her Injuries.

Lambertville, N. J., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Elizabeth Reamer, an aged woman who lives on a farm several miles from this city, was gored by a bull early this morning and may not recover from her injuries. She was entering the barn to milk some cows, when she was attacked by the bull and knocked to the ground. When she was rescued her clothes were torn and she was badly bruised. A physician was summoned and he says she will probably die.

Franklin J. Bischoff Gives Bail.

Sheriff of the release of Lawrence Pennington, Jr., son of Henry Bischoff, the banker, and brother of Justice Henry Bischoff, Jr., of the Supreme Court bench, who was held in custody on a charge of the murder of the men who had gone on the prisoner's bond. Catherine Reynolds, the wife of Charles Reynolds, a dealer in stolen goods, was also released on bail.

Two Held for Miss Bonchard's Death.

Dr. Jacob Hartman, of No. 267 West Fifty-sixth street, charged with having caused the death by illegal means of Mary Bonchard, a domestic, of No. 69 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street, and Peter Wiley, of No. 38 East Eighty-fifth street, jointly implicated, were arraigned in the Harlem Court yesterday. Both denied the charge. Mary Bonchard was committed both to the custody of the Coroner.

HERTER AS A SCULPTOR.

Praise and Objection to the Heine Monument Before the Aldermanic Committee.

Secretary Ruckstuhl, of the Sculptors' Society, Says It's a "Dingy Affair."

NEVER KNEW OF HERTER BEFORE.

E. F. Piatti, Emil Labishner and George V. Skal Highly Indorse the Berlin Sculptor's Latest Effort.

The members of the National Sculpture Society never heard of Herter before his name was mentioned in connection with the Heine monument, which some persons now wish to have placed in the annexed district. E. F. Piatti, secretary of the society, made this statement yesterday, speaking unofficially.

He was before the Special Aldermanic Committee—Messrs. Brown, Goodman and Olcott—appointed to give a public hearing on the proposition to place the memorial in Commissioner Haffen's district. The Commissioner is willing and anxious to have it there, but there are many persons who do not want it in any part of the city under any conditions.

The Board announced at the opening of the hearing that the opposition would be heard first. Paul Dana said, in view of the fact that the application was made by the Heine persons, it was only fair to hear what they had to offer before making any objections.

Mr. Olcott said the resolution before Mayor Strong was recalled so as to give certain persons an opportunity to offer their objections, and consequently it was incumbent upon them to show reasons for the opposition.

Mr. Dana then said he would briefly state how the matter came before the Park Board and was submitted to the National Sculpture Society, a body of high artistic standing. He had the report of that body and would be content to present it to the committee.

Russell Sturgis, vice-president of the society, declared that he had had nothing against the acceptance of the monument. It was referred to the society, as all other matters of art are referred, for an opinion.

The society, said he, "is a permanent body, whose function it is to make upon works of art. Under these circumstances it has been difficult to conceive how a misleading opinion could be given."

Mr. Ruckstuhl said the society is composed of forty-four members, thirteen of whom are foreigners and thirteen of whom are Germans. It had been accused of prejudice in deciding against this work of art.

Herter's because he was a Hebrew. This was not so.

"The monument," said Mr. Ruckstuhl, "is a dingy affair, and in twenty-five years it would be no more than a lump of marble. It would contract. Under the circumstances this body is referring to the Aldermanic Committee to watch it and a standing committee to keep it in repair."

Dr. E. Richards spoke as one interested in the monument from the beginning; not as one who had an individual interest in the political and racial reasons that made its acceptance in Germany impossible. He contended that the representatives of a school of art are not competent to judge the work of another. Each would be essentially biased.

The chief objection to the monument here is that it is rococo. No matter what the style, a thing that is beautiful is beautiful. Herter exhibited in Chicago and received the seal of approval by prizes won. He thought the Aldermanic most competent judges because they represent the public, and the monument was intended to please the public, not any particular school of artists.

"We don't erect monuments," said he, "to show how certain artistic obstacles may be overcome, but we want them to please the people and to meet the public taste."

E. F. Piatti declared the monument a legitimate composition and highly artistic. It is of Tyrolean white marble. A fountain of the same material, erected in Philadelphia in 1876, has stood the wear of the weather excellently. Mr. Seligman said he had seen the fountain and declared the quality of marble one of commendable durability.

Emil Labishner made a strong sentimental appeal for the acceptance of Herter's work. He said it was a masterpiece of New York, a cosmopolitan city," said he, "to reject a monument to such a genius as Herter is Heine."

Mr. Ruckstuhl here took the floor again and said the objection to the monument is that it is too rococo, but because it is in bad taste. And regarding Herter's standing said:

"No member of our society ever heard of him before he was mentioned in connection with this monument."

"SIX ATROCIOUS STATUES," he continued, "six are atrocious which would be pulled down."

Mr. Dana said the idea that the Heine monument was a masterpiece of New York, a cosmopolitan city," said he, "to reject a monument to such a genius as Herter is Heine."

Mr. Ruckstuhl here took the floor again and said the objection to the monument is that it is too rococo, but because it is in bad taste. And regarding Herter's standing said:

"No member of our society ever heard of him before he was mentioned in connection with this monument."

"SIX ATROCIOUS STATUES," he continued, "six are atrocious which would be pulled down."

BLACKMAIL IS ALLEGED.

Tenants of Morris Levy Claiming Damages for Property Destroyed in a Cherry Street Fire.

In April last the building Nos. 282, 284 and 286 Cherry street, belonging to Morris Levy, a real estate dealer at No. 102 East Broadway, was destroyed by fire. Levy collected $12,000 insurance. He estimated his loss at $26,000. The building was divided into small factories, was leased to sweat shop keepers. Among the tenants were Alexander Cooper, David Ohrbach, Reuben Schwartz, David Alpert, Harris Elias and Arkins Brothers. Alpert conducted a restaurant that was patronized by employees of the others.

About a month after the fire Schwartz, assuming himself as spokesman for all the tenants, demanded that Levy make good to them their individual losses by the fire. He threatened that unless they were paid they would produce evidence that Levy had himself fired the house. Mr. Levy referred Schwartz to his lawyer, Mr. Deeter, of Whitehead, Deeter & Osborne, of No. 70 Wall street, and to him Schwartz made the same claim.

Levy was ignored, and Schwartz and the other tenants began suits in the civil courts through Lawyer R. R. Koppelman. Schwartz, Cooper, $33,340.45; Schwartz, $8,541; Ohrbach, $6,649; Alpert, $6,031.55; Elias, $2,850.45; and Arkins Brothers, $10,134.51. Complaints allege they had suffered said losses through the action of Morris Levy, who had fired the house.

From time to time Schwartz or others of his former tenants have, it is alleged, asked Mr. Levy to make a settlement, but no action was taken against him. Schwartz, at the evidence in their possession, and reminding him of the fate of certain convicted firebugs. Mr. Levy declined to deal with them. On Friday two men, strangers to Mr. Levy and his son, called at the office and demanded to see him in private. They told a story very like the one told by Schwartz and declared that the evidence in their possession was conclusive. The spokesman, who said he was once a tenant of Mr. Levy, said:

"We are getting desperate. Stela (his companion) is going to make trouble for you. If you give him $200 he will leave the country at once, and then nothing can come of any charges that may be made. Give him the money and give me $150 for myself and $150 for my brother-in-law and you will be safe."

Young Mr. Levy agreed to pay the money if the men would come back the next morning. When they came Acting Captain Stinkman of the East Fifty-first Street Police Station, was hidden behind a screen in the office. Two of his detectives were also present. The men were arrested as they left the office with them in their possession. At the station house the prisoner declared that he was a Jew and that he was a Jew.

Neither speaks English and both are comparatively recent arrivals to the colony of Russian Hebrews. They were arraigned on the charge of extortion and blackmail in Yorkville Police Court yesterday and held for examination in default of $3,000 bail.

Lawyer Levy says he has evidence which connects the prisoners with Schwartz, and that he is prepared to prove that they were inspired in the action they took. Since Lawyer Levy became interested in the case detectives have been looking up the records of the complainants in the civil suits. They have made some discoveries, they say, which indicate that the value of their property has been willfully overestimated.

DRY GOODS SHOP A CERTAINTY.

Work Soon to Begin on the Transformation of the Baudouine House.

The residents of Fifty-sixth street who protested against the contemplated invasion of upper Fifth avenue by a retail dry goods store have been defeated. Within the next few days the work of altering the old Baudouine mansion, at No. 715 Fifth avenue, that was sold by the heirs of the estate to the dry goods firm, into a building suitable for business purposes, will be begun.

Jardine, Kent & Jardine, the architects who have the contract for altering the building, have just completed the plans. The mansard roof will be removed, as will also the interior arrangement of the house and the rear wall and extension, leaving nothing but the front and side walls of the old mansion standing.

The first and second tiers of wooden beams will be taken out and iron girders will take their place. A main floor of a dry goods emporium will take the place of the prior floor and half of the basement. The side walls will be excavated and with the other half of the basement and what is now the cellar of the house will be transformed into another show room. Plate glass show windows will replace the old windows in the basement and parlor floors, and the walls will be built up to support a level floor.

The two upper floors will be used as salesrooms and for storage. The alterations, it is expected, will be completed before May 1.

WOES OF A GYPSY QUEEN.

Her Husband Joined the Salvation Army, and Now She Seeks Divorce.

Akron, O., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Florence Hied, widely known as "The Gypsy Queen," has sued her husband, Adam Hied, for divorce. The couple were married a few years ago under novel circumstances.

The woman had been living with "Doc" Tanner, an eccentric character here, and Hied became infatuated with her, and finally purchased her for $10 and an old sewing machine. She made no objection, and for a time Hied was happy. Then he discovered that she had another husband living. In order that he might be legally her husband, he spent the savings of a year in securing a divorce and threatened to kill himself, but was induced to join the Salvation Army instead.

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

are comparatively recent arrivals to the colony of Russian Hebrews. They were arraigned on the charge of extortion and blackmail in Yorkville Police Court yesterday and held for examination in default of $3,000 bail.

Lawyer Levy says he has evidence which connects the prisoners with Schwartz, and that he is prepared to prove that they were inspired in the action they took. Since Lawyer Levy became interested in the case detectives have been looking up the records of the complainants in the civil suits. They have made some discoveries, they say, which indicate that the value of their property has been willfully overestimated.

DRY GOODS SHOP A CERTAINTY.

Work Soon to Begin on the Transformation of the Baudouine House.

The residents of Fifty-sixth street who protested against the contemplated invasion of upper Fifth avenue by a retail dry goods store have been defeated. Within the next few days the work of altering the old Baudouine mansion, at No. 715 Fifth avenue, that was sold by the heirs of the estate to the dry goods firm, into a building suitable for business purposes, will be begun.

Jardine, Kent & Jardine, the architects who have the contract for altering the building, have just completed the plans. The mansard roof will be removed, as will also the interior arrangement of the house and the rear wall and extension, leaving nothing but the front and side walls of the old mansion standing.

The first and second tiers of wooden beams will be taken out and iron girders will take their place. A main floor of a dry goods emporium will take the place of the prior floor and half of the basement. The side walls will be excavated and with the other half of the basement and what is now the cellar of the house will be transformed into another show room. Plate glass show windows will replace the old windows in the basement and parlor floors, and the walls will be built up to support a level floor.

The two upper floors will be used as salesrooms and for storage. The alterations, it is expected, will be completed before May 1.

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."

Dr. Hied allow his wife to secure a divorce without contesting the case. Mrs. Hied was once a very beautiful woman, and still possesses many traces of "The Gypsy Queen."